Care Adviser Network

Introduction

Our ageing population and ongoing changes to the care and benefit systems have led to a greater need for specialist later life care and care funding advice.

The right care starts with the right advice. Quality assured information and advice is the foundation for the development of better care, empowering people to make informed decisions gives them real choice and control and is vital for planning how care and support needs are identified, met and funded.

The rising demand and cost of care often impacts on the whole family and their financial health. Confused and confusing, navigating the care and benefit system requires specialist advice to enable appropriate care choices, which must not be divorced from the cost.

Whether you are providing care, care planning services, financial or legal advice CAN membership, advice and training services support ongoing professional and business development while enabling much needed guidance through the care and benefit maze for older people, their family and carers in England.

Care Adviser Network
